The keeping of the new cargo-book shall not be held in derogation with the prescription of article 10 of the law of 1890, as far as it is concerned in those rules.

5. Nothing in these rules shall be held to exempt the agents or members of vessels sailing under a general pass from payment of any fees for special services or from any restrictions as to landing or discharge of passengers imposed upon them by the rules of any port at which the vessel is to call.

Exposure and outcome

6. Vessels sailing under a general pass may be entered, visited, and stopping bills created in anticipation of arrival.

7. No goods, except transportable goods and passengers' baggage, shall be received on board without a shipping bill. All shipping bills shall be in English; and at ports where there are no shore facilities for their preparation in that language, the agents of the vessel shall be bound to provide for this requirement; shipping bills shall be in form specified in Annex A. Goods for stowable goods shall have the word STOWABLE printed across in appropriate ink.

B. Free cargo may be shipped at any time, day or night, except on Sundays or holidays, without special permission or appointment. Provided that no goods shall be shipped at night without registration, except such as have been water-borne for shipment during ordinary working hours.

At the Port of Madras, however, goods are shipped only from 6 A.M. to 8 P.M., or from 10 A.M. to 11 P.M., and are not allowed to be shipped at any other time. Goods are not allowed to be shipped at any other time, but are allowed to be shipped at any other time, but are not allowed to be shipped at any other time.

[illegible]

2. Durable goods shall not be shipped except under express instructions. The original shipping bill shall be filed at the customs house, and the duplicate shall accompany the goods on board. The triplicate shall be retained by the officer supervising the shipment either at the wharf or on board, who after endorsing upon it the particulars of the goods actually received on board, shall return it to the customs-house for use in checking the goods' export account, specified as provided below, rule 15.

16. The agent shall secure similar endorsements to be made upon the duplicate shipping bills both for free and for dutiable goods. Those for dutiable goods shall accompany the goods; those for free goods shall be retained by the agents for presentation with the export manifest.

10. Foot-cleansers must be applied for during office hours, unless otherwise directed by the Coast Customs officer, and at least four hours before the departure of the vessel, and must be sent on board before she actually leaves the port.

(2) The export manifest shall be in the same form as is provided for the importation by rule 4. It must be put in by the agent within five clear working days from the date of port clearance, and must be accompanied by a duplicate prepared in separate parts—one for each port for which goods have been shipped, and by the duplicate shipping bills for free goods endorsed with particulars of actual shipments as required by rule 15.

13. After the original and duplicate have been prepared and checked with the triplicate shipping bills for dutiable goods, and the duplicate shipping bills for free goods, one copy of the different parts of the manifest shall be sent by post, together with the accompanying duplicate or triplicate shipping bills, as the case may be, to the Customs Collector at the ports to which they respectively relate, and the original export manifests shall be retained for use in conjunction with the original shipping bills in recording exports statistics.

Entry and discharge.

14. Within 24 hours after arrival in any customs port, terminal or intermediate, a duly authenticated extract from the cargo-book kept on board as required by rule 4, showing all cargo, free or dutiable, to be discharged, whether for landing or transshipment at that port, shall be presented at the customs-house, together with the duplicate shipping bills referred to in rule 9 for all dutiable cargo consigned in the extract which may have been shipped at customs ports.

Key.—The term of 24, unless otherwise specified, shall be reckoned from the date of presentation at the customs-house of the duplicate shipping bills, or when not so specified, from the date of arrival.

15. At ports where the cargo is to be discharged direct on to a wharf, a duplicate of the extract from the cargo-book shall be furnished for use in checking the cargo as it is landed. When the cargo has to be discharged into boats, the duplicate copy may be dispensed with, but a boat-note showing clearly all particulars necessary to the identification of the packages, and signed by a responsible officer of the ship shall accompany each boat-load when.

Provided that at ports of call where the extract from the cargo-book is to be put in order rule 14, or a list of the cargo is handed to the Customs-office on board, or accompanies the goods ashore, no boat-note or duplicate extract from the cargo-book need be limited upon.

16. At ports in the Lower Provinces of Bengal and at ports in the Madras Presidency (the chief port of Madras excepted), discharge may be commenced, as soon as the vessel drops anchor, when free cargo may be landed at any time, day or night, without special permission or supervision, but no cargo from any foreign port and no cargo from any customs-port which was transhipped from a foreign port shall be discharged except under the written authority of the proper officer of customs.

17. At ports on the Bombay Presidency discharge may be commenced as soon as the vessel drops anchor, and cargo, whether dutiable or free, may be landed at any time, day or night, except on Sundays and holidays, without special permission or supervision, except in respect of cargo of which supervision may be necessary out of hours; provided that the agents shall be responsible that dutiable cargo shall be covered by separate boat-notes or bills of the cargo is discharged by boat and stacked separately on the wharf, and that it shall only be delivered on production of bills of entry duly issued by the Customs Department and on payment of any duty that may be due upon the same.

18. These bills of entry shall be in the usual form for goods imported by foreign-going vessels, and shall be presented upon the arrival from the cargo-book filed at the Customs house as required by rule 14, after check, if the goods are said to have come from a customs-port, with the shipping bills filed with the extract.

Hours.—See rule 24.

19. At the Port of Madras, subject to the right of the Port officer to regulate the boat traffic or consideration of weather, goods may be landed on the beach or at the pier at any hour between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m., or between sunset and sunset, but not afterwards, unless the cargo boats have left the ship's side by 5 o'clock p.m., in which case they shall be entitled to discharge at the port the same evening. Goods imported by contract mail vessels, however, may be discharged at the pier up to 3 p.m., on Sundays and holidays, as well as on ordinary work days. The Collector of the Customs may, at his discretion, extend the time for the landing of goods on good cause for granting the extension being shown. The regulated time must be paid to the Superintendent of the Customs and Marine Department in accordance with the gazetted rules in consideration of the rates labour charges, whenever they are called upon to work overtime on on Sundays and holidays under the orders of the officer in charge of the Customs house.

20. Except at ports in the Lower Provinces of Bengal, free cargo may be removed by the customs as soon as it has been checked off on the extract from the cargo-book furnished for the purpose, or cargo list, or boat-note, as mentioned in rule 15. When the cargo has not been checked off on the original extract from the cargo-book, the cargo list, duplicate extract or boat-note used for the purpose, as the case may be, shall be retained for comparison compares with the original extract from the cargo-book.

21. The agents of the vessel shall be bound to account, on being called upon to do so, for all discrepancies both as to free and as to dutiable cargo, and to make all arrangements necessary to secure the correctness of the documents put in by them.

22. The agents shall further be bound to undertake that when the vessel touches at any foreign port in the course of any coasting voyage, a certificate under the signature of the Chief Officer of Customs at such port shall be deposited within 48 hours of her departure, to the Customs Collector of every customs port for which she has taken in cargo at such foreign port the gross number and description of packages, numbers and marks they bear and a general description of their contents.

They shall also be bound to furnish to the Chief Customs Officer of any customs-port from which any goods may have been shipped under bond for customs or excise duty, or under shore for drawback, for any foreign port, a certificate from the Chief Customs Officer of the said foreign port showing particulars of discharge of such goods.

Transshipment.

* 23. All transshipment cargo to be discharged or received by a vessel calling under a general pass shall be distinctly entered in the cargo-book of such vessel, and in the extract from the cargo-book, or the export general manifests to be put in under rules 11 or 12, respectively, in the same way as.

* 24. The particulars of all cargo discharged for transshipment shall be entered by the Customs officer on board the discharging vessel, or if there be no Customs officer, then by a responsible officer of the ship, in a bond-book or bond-note with counterfoils, and on such cargo shall be entered, as bound without a bond-note, which shall be entered by the receiving officer in the same manner as a shipping bill.

Separate bond notes shall be given for free and dutiable goods respectively, those for the latter being rendered readily distinguishable by having the word Dutiable printed across the two in large type at the end.

* 25. The counterfoils shall be sent to the Customs-house before the vessel sails, and shall be afterwards checked with the inward extract from the cargo book, put in by the discharging ship under rule 14, and if the goods are from a neutral-port or Indian foreign port, with the export manifest and shipping bills, or the certificate of shipment, received from such port as provided by rules 11 and 12.

* 26. The bond notes shall also be sent ashore as and shall be presented by the agents of the receiving ship in support of the export general manifests to be put in by them after the vessel's departure, as provided by rule 12. If the goods covered by them are for a customs port, they shall, after the export general manifest has been checked, be forwarded as accompanied with the duplicate manifests to the port of destination. If the goods have been shipped at a customs port, the shipping bills relating to them, received from the port of shipment, shall be sent on, with the bond-note and the duplicate of the export manifests, to the port of destination.

Export bills are prepared at the export custom, issued from the port of shipment with the extract from the cargo-book put in at the port of discharge should be made. Should the latter not be received before the goods are given to a consignee, a duplicate manifest should be issued out as soon as it arrives, and the Customs officer at the port of export should be required to re-verify the duplicate. If any discrepancy or default in the goods of discharge, the Customs officer will, of course, keep such discrepancy in the duplicate of the bond. If it is only a discrepancy, the manifest may be sent on from the shipper. He will also note that in the course of the vessel's passage under the 17th clause 4th, of the Act, section 47, if it is ascertained that the goods are dutiable and transhipped and further that the shipper is liable for drawback and a rebate 100, clause 172 of the Act for bonded goods transhipped at a customs port in which there was no outlet for duty (16) they must have a foreign pass.

Reed's Freighting, No. 45, dated 1st March 1888.

* 27. Free goods may be transhipped as above without expediting.

Dutiable goods shall not be transhipped unless otherwise directed by special order in writing, except in the passage of an Officer of Customs who shall fill in the bond-note and counterfoils required by rule 25.

* 28. If any cargo on which duty has to be recovered at the port of discharge shall have been transhipped for any customs port, the master of the receiving vessel shall, before he sails, present to the Customs officer on board a list in duplicate of all such cargo received by him for each such port. The Customs officer after verifying the bills shall retain one copy and return the other to the master for presentation on arrival at the Customs authorities at the port of destination.

In the case of dutiable transhipped goods from a customs port, the duplicate shipping bills brought on by the discharging vessel shall be transferred to the master of the receiving vessel with the copy of the transshipment list of goods on which duty is to be recovered for presentation at the customs-port of discharge.

* 29. Transshipment of dutiable goods from foreign-going vessels shall be subject to general rules as to liability to loss and security for tranship perils before transshipment is allowed.

30. The foregoing rules * 23 to 29 are not applicable to ports in the Lower Provinces of Bengal. At those ports goods for transshipment shall be dealt with as provided in the rules laid down by notification of the Government of Bengal, dated the 26th November 1883, and the notice of the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, dated the 27th June 1885.
